

Family Math Night!

Sponsored by the Einstein Elementary PTSA

Family Math Night is coming to Einstein Elementary! If you are ready to learn fun math games and activities that you can do with your child in addition to new strategies to help your child in math then mark Thursday January 14th from 7:00-8:30 on your calendar.

Family Math Night involves parents and children in problem solving, experimenting, and discovering together. Each child will be provided with the materials used at Family Math Night so that they can take them home and continue playing the math games.

If you would like to attend Family Math Night on Jan. 14th then please fill out the bottom portion of this flier and have your child return it to his or her teacher by Tuesday Jan. 12th so that we can get a heads up on how many families will be attending! Remember this is an event for both adults and students...so start putting on your thinking caps! (Please bring a calculator if you have one.)

An extra recess with Mr. Tobin will be awarded to the classroom with the highest number of students attending this event. You don't want to miss it!!

Family Math Night!

Yes, our family will be able to attend Family Math Night on Thursday, January 14th from 7:00-8:30 pm.

Number of children attending _____

Number of adults attending _____

Children's name and grade level _____

Parent name and phone number _____