

I

Making a difference

To Someone

Changing their world

Their family

Their life

Make them clear as the sky

As soft as grass

Curing them

Their problems that show

And the problems hidden deep inside

Like the depths of the deep ocean

And their family

Wash away all their worries

Like gentle ocean waves

When I grow up

I will

Heal

At a hospital

By

Treating them

Like cleaning

All the specks of dirt

That are dotting their future

And be the star

In someone's life

Shining in the night sky.
